Caster Blog's main goal is to bridge the connection between the diverse podcasts shows and episodes that are on Caster so that our listeners can discover new shows through our blog based on their interests. Additionally, we add daily headlines and weekly news overview so our listeners can stay up to date with the latest news in politics, business, technology, and culture. Most of our posts feature a playlist with the discussed episodes and can be directly added to My Library.

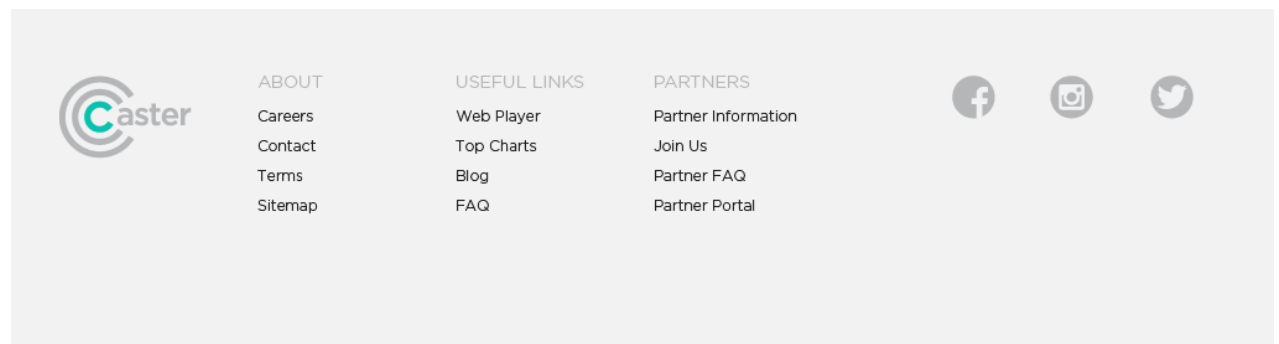

We also feature behind the scenes of different shows by interviewing different creators, producers, and commentators so that our listeners can learn about how the show was created, how they got there, technical details, and fun facts about each studio.
